ABOUT SAMSUNG ELECTRONICS

Our client is the Ukrainian representative office of the world's leading electronics brand - Samsung.

They deal with smartphones, household appliances, TVs and other game-changing technologies in their R&D Institute Ukraine.

CLIENT'S REQUEST

The client was looking for two professionals. A Middle Linux Middleware C/C++ Developer was needed for a smart TV hardware and software security project.

A Unity 3D Developer was planned to be involved as a cross-project specialist.

Recruitment Team Lead at StaffingPartner

OUR APPROACH

Searching through our database is the first thing we do after understanding the client's needs. A wide network of highly skilled Ukrainian tech specialists and connections with local accelerators allow us to engage the best candidates from a massive hidden pool unavailable to most agencies.

That is how we've managed to close both positions within just one month.

RECRUITER'S COMMENT:

“ StaffingPartner recruiters have a reputation as experts in the tech job market that develop strong relationships with the best specialists in the world.

That is why we are usually the first to come to mind when there is a need to provide tech companies with prospective employees.

THE OUTCOME

The first Unity developer we submitted accepted an offer in the third week of the recruiting process.

Both the Unity and Linux Middleware developers have already demonstrated excellent results and are committed to the success of their projects.
